Preface

The Family History of Manuel Pereira Silva includes ancestry charts, descendency charts and registry reports for selected branches of the family of Manuel Pereira Silva.

The information was obtained from the following sources:
The Church of Latter Day Saints Family History Centers in Vacaville California, Oakland California and San Luis Obispo California.
The California Death Index Records.
Death dates and locations from Social Security death records.
The Catholic cemetery in San Rafael Ca.
The Catholic cemetery in San Bruno Ca.
The Calvary Catholic cemetery in San Jose Ca.
The recorder's offices in Santa Clara County, Marin County, Contra Costa County and San Mateo County all in California.

Records after the late 1600s were obtained from original sources and are fairly accurate. The records earlier than the above dates were obtained from records compiled by other individuals and may contain errors. These sources include Notas Histoicas de Sao Jorge by Padre Manuel Azevedo da Cunha, family trees in the LDS film reel no. 1330512, and individual information from others doing family history in the Azores.

The author would like to thank the following persons who provided assistance in the compilation of this information:
The staff at the Vacaville LDS Family History Center.
Arlene Silveira in Gover Beach Ca. (San Luis Obispo Ca. FHC)
Eloise Cadinha in San Leandro Ca. (Oakland FHC)
Dorothy Potts. (Oakland FHC)
Barbara Espinosa, San Jose Ca. (The author's cousin)

Introduction

The Ancestry of Manuel Pereira Silva

My father Fernando Pereira Silva and my mother Maria Luisa were both born on Sao Jorge Island in the Azores Islands. My father was born in the village of Topo and my mother in the village of Ribeira Seca.

My father's main line on his fathers side was the Pereira line and he was a descendent of Joao Corte Real who was the first Captain Donatary of Terceira and Sao Jorge in the late 1400s or early 1500s.

On my father's mother's side we were descendants of Willem van Der Hagen the Flemish noble man from Bruges in what is now Belguim. Willem was the founder of the village of Topo at about 1500. There is some controversy over his ancestry but some authors say he was the bastard son of the count of Bruges. Grand mother Barbara Silveira do Curacao de Jesus connects to Vander Hagen through Isabel Cantana de Valenca who was married to Manuel Silveira de Azevedo.

My mother also was a descendant of Willem Van Der Hagen. Grand mother Rosa Silveira connects to the Van Der Hagen Through a Perpetua Maria Vierra who was married to Antonio Simao Machado.

Some of the lines go to other islands. My paternal grand mother Barbara Silveira has a Simas line that goes to village of Sao Roque on Pico Island and after several generations to Horta on Faial Island.

My fathers family lived in the small village Faja of Salte Verde which was part of the Topo Parish.

My mother's family lived in the small village of Faja Redonda which was part of the Ribeira Seca Parish.

The trees in this book all interconnect. To connect between trees a common link can be found for the same person in more than one tree by going to the index in the back of this text.

Topo Point, Sao Jorge Island. This is where the first settlers set foot on land when they came from Bruges Belgium. The first settlers were Flemish. Bruges was part of the Kingdom of Burgundy. The King of Burgundy was married to Isabel of Portugal. The old Topo light house can be seen in the background.

The Azores Islands are located about 2000 miles east of New York City and 800 miles west of Portugal. They have been a Portuguese possession since their discovery in about 1430 except for 1580 to 1640 when they were occupied by Spain. They are not colonies but are part of Portugal like Hawaii is part of the U.S. The climate is about 10-15 degrees F cooler than Hawaii. Some of the historical highlights for Sao Jorge Islands besides the Spanish occupation were the 1747 earthquake and the abolishment of the nobility when the Free Masons took over in about 1830. The 1747 earthquake killed about half of the population in Rebeira Seca and Topo on Sao Jorge Island. Christopher Columbus married a Portuguese woman and I think his son and descendants lived on Terceira Island. From 1500 to the late 1800s the islands were raided many times by pirates.

One of my references mentions damage to house of the grandfather of Manuel Machado Aguiar a locksmith in Rebeira Seca in the 1747 earthquake. My cousin Carmelia says that grandmother Rosa talked about an Aguiar locksmith in our family.
The nine Islands that comprise the Azores were discovered at about 1427 by Diogo de Silves (or Sunis) a navigator for the king of Portugal. The Islands were not inhabited. There were many birds to be found on the Islands and the name Azores means Islands of The Hawks. The first settlements were started in 1432 and were started by Goncalo Velho Cabral the First Donee Captain of the Islands of Sao Miguel and Santa Maria.

The first settlements on Sao Jorge were started at about 1464. The village of Topo was started by Willem Van Der Hagen and his followers 1470. Willem Van Der Hagen was the bastard son of the count of Bruges in what is now Belguim. Willem Van Der Hagen changed his name to Guilherme Silveira and most of the Silveiras from Sao Jorge are his descendants. Guilherme and his wife Margarida Van Saboya had eight children. Guilherme started villages on the islands of Faial, Graciosa and Sao Jorge. The last village he started was Topo Sao Jorge Island. Guilhermes children were; Anna who married Tristao Pereira on Faial, Catarina da Silveira who married George Gomes de Avila on Graciosa Island, Luzia da Silveira who married Andre Fernandes. Margarida da Silveira who married Jorge da Terra, Joao da Silveira who married D. Isabel Abarca Guimar Borges, Francisco da Silveira who married D. Isabel de Macedo, Maria da Silveira who married Joao Pires Matos and Jorge da Silveira.

Grandmother Barbara Silveira is a descendant of Guilherme Silveira through his daughters Maria and Luzia. Grand mother Rosa Silveira Baptista is a descendant of Guilherme Silveira through daughters Maria and son Joao. Guilherme Silveira is my 17th grandfather.

Our grand fathers Pereira line are descendant of Joao Corte Real the first Captain Donatary of Sao Jorge and Terceira.
