The São Jorge Genealogical Society is a registered 501(c)3 Non-Profit Organization which aims to assist those researching their lineage on the island of São Jorge, Azores.

It does so by:

- Providing research support and helping to interpret findings
- Making pertinent resources publicly accessible
- Promoting interest in, and fostering knowledge of São Jorge's rich history

To date, the society has digitized over 250,000 pages of manuscripts dating back to the 1500s.

Jeremy Berry-Cahn serves as President of the São Jorge Genealogical Society. He co-founded the organization in 2016 to assist those researching their lineage on the island, and has overseen all of the society's indexing and digitization initiatives since that time. Jeremy received his Bachelor's degree in History from California State University Sacramento in 2021, and is currently pursuing a Master's in Archives and Preservation Management (MLIS) from Simmons University in Boston, Massachusetts.

As an avid genealogist he particularly enjoys evaluating the integrity, reliability, and completeness of popular archival sources such as census and tax records, vital statistics, and draft registration records. While in Sacramento, Jeremy worked as a student assistant for the Collections Management Unit of the California State Archives. He currently serves as Town Archivist at a Massachusetts Clerk's Office and is heavily involved with numerous Historical Societies in both Essex and Middlesex Counties.

Jeremy belongs to the National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, Mayflower Society, and numerous other genealogical organizations. He previously served as a project manager and committee chairman for US GenWeb, and volunteered as a Family History Center research consultant. In his free time, Jeremy also enjoys writing Freedom of Information Law requests to help facilitate access to genealogical records, and helping to preserve 17th and 18th century graveyards in New England.

Jeremy's Azorean ancestors came to Morro Bay, California in the 1870's and 1880's where they operated a number of dairy farms. The majority of his Portuguese ancestors were from Calheta, Ribeira Seca, Manadas, and Norte Pequeno São Jorge, though he also has lines in Topo, São Jorge, Flamengos Faial, Castelo Branco, Faial, Bandeiras, Pico, Santa Luzia, Pico, Angra, Terceira, and Sé, Terceira.

What Are Population Lists?

A population list is any document that provides a listing of inhabitants in a given area. Since civil censuses covering the Azores are far and few between, this guide is mostly composed of census substitutes; records that provide similar information and can help pinpoint a person's residency in a given year. These substitutes include civil censuses, confessional rolls, tax records, juror lists, and voter rolls.

About This Project

In February, 2022 the São Jorge Genealogical Society launched a new project with the goal of digitizing as many Azorean population lists as possible; not only for São Jorge, but for all islands in the Azores. Since the organization's core mission is concentrated on São Jorge research, independent fundraisers were held to digitize records for the other islands and SJGS general funds were not used. Therefore, the amount of content available for each island varies greatly based on how much money could be raised for scanning that island's records.

The majority of time was spent on the central island group, and only a few documents for S. Miguel were copied in the first phase of the project. The island of Santa Maria is the only island not included in this initiative at the present time.

Types of Population Lists

Civil Censuses

By definition, a census is simply “an official count or survey of a population”. In the Azores, censuses were generally administered by parishes at the request of the Concelho, Câmara Municipal, or a larger governing body. These records are most often referred to as ‘Mapa da População’.

1766 Census:

When the Captaincy-General of the Azores was created in 1766, the government requested that all Azorean parish priests create statistical reports documenting the population of their parish. They then submitted them to a nearby magistrate, who was tasked with compiling the documents (decree of 2.08.1766). Priests were instructed to divide their report into three sections. The first section needed to enumerate all inhabitants in the civil parish who had received communion. The second portion documented all deaths occurring in 1766, and specified how many of the decedents were ten years old or younger, between eleven and forty years, forty-one to sixty years, sixty to eighty years, or beyond eighty years of age. The final section was to provide information on the number of persons who had been baptized during the calendar year.

Nominative Census

The vaguety of these requirements led priests to interpret their responsibilities in very different ways. Some chose to administer a census of their parish in order to obtain the requested information, while others simply drew-up figures based on the most recent Confessional Roll. It was also unclear whether these reports were intended to be nominative or purely statistical, so censuses for some towns provide the names of their inhabitants divided into households, while others do not.

Today, only the censuses for São Jorge, Terceira, Graciosa, Flores and Corvo are known to survive. Collectively, they comprise roughly 300 pages, and are kept at the Arquivo Histórico Ultramarino in Lisbon (AHU, Azores, cx. 6, n. 15). Of the forty freguesias, the only nominative lists to exist are for:

- Manadas, São Jorge
- Norte Pequeno, São Jorge
- Quatro Ribeiras, Terceira
- Ribeira Seca, São Jorge
- Rosais, São Jorge
- Santo Amaro, São Jorge
- Urzelina, São Jorge
- Velas, São Jorge

- Additionally, the 1766 statistical census for Luz, Graciosa lists each decedent in the year 1766 by name.

The São Jorge Genealogical Society has digitized the 1766 Census in its entirety, and has made scans of all nominative population lists available on its website free of charge. They are available in the SJGS Digital Reading Room: Confessional Roll & Population List Portal

1832-1839 Censuses

Numerous civil censuses were taken in the Azores throughout the 1830's, but they survive only sporadically and the original documents are split across several archives which makes them difficult to research. Following is a list of the records presently known to survive:

1832 census - covers most parishes on Corvo, São Jorge, and Terceira

1833 census - covered São Miguel, but surviving documents can only be located for the city of Ponta Delgada

1835 census - covers many parishes on Terceira

1837 census - covers most parishes on Flores

1838 census - covers most parishes on Pico

1839 census - covers most parishes on São Jorge

Confessional Rolls (Rol de Confessados)

Confessional Rolls are a kind of religious census undertaken by the Catholic Church. Each parish in the Azores created these records with the aim of recording who confessed during Lent each year and whether or not they received Communion. These documents are akin to civil census records and provide much of the same information - they list heads of households, subsequent family members, each person's relationship to the head of household, ages, occupations, and the neighborhood or street where a family resided. Additional information is sometimes included as well, though it should be noted that the earliest confessional rolls from the 1700's are much more streamlined than the 19th century records, and rarely provide ages, or relationship information among family members.

It can be valuable to learn who an individual lived with, near or next to. Confessional Rolls provide that information, and also tell us how each household evolved from one year to another. They can be used to track when an individual was born, married, died, or emigrated.

Common abbreviations found in Confessional Rolls include:

absente = absent = out of town, or abroad assist. = assistente = guest or temporary lodger

ca / cda = casada = married woman

cc = received communion

co / cdo = casado = married man

cro = criado = domestic servant

cra = craida = domestic servant or maid

f = filho/a = son/daughter

f s = single son or daughter g = genro = son in law.

livre = literally 'free', generally indicates an unmarried or independent person

m = mulher = wife

n = nora = daughter in law

neto = grandson or granddaughter

sa = solteira = single woman

so = solteiro = single man

v = viúvo = widow

va = viúva = widow

vo = viúvo = widower

Tax Records

In the Azores, tax records come in multiple forms. 'Lista de Impostos' and 'Contribuições Municipais' generally refer to municipal taxes, while 'Rol da Finta' are church tax or tithing records. Tax records are limited in the depth of information they contain, however they generally go back a lot further than other kinds of population lists; sometimes as early as the 1500's. They generally provide the name of the taxpayer, the location within the parish where the individual resided, and the amount of taxes that were levied. In some cases marital statuses and occupations are also provided. Women are only included in these records if they were the head of their household, and either unmarried or widowed.

Voter Rolls (Recenseamento Eleitoral)

Voter rolls are among the most consistent and prevalent census substitutes for the Azores. They are useful in that they provide the names of the residents in each town who were eligible to vote, and include the name, age, marital status, occupation, and address of each such individual. Unfortunately they do not contain any information on women or children, and provide little insight into the structure of family units.
